Dear Neighbors!

As the DPOA Board of Directors move forward with several projects, such as a plan for our Fall fundraiser event, the purchase of new patio furniture, summer-time mowing, and repairs to lighting at the primary Diamante entrance, I begin to think about what moving forward really means. I thought about moving forward with projects, moving forward with repairs, and moving forward with community involvement. Then I realized that the most important duty that we all have, as supporting members of the DPOA, is moving forward for one another.

Whether we are trying to respond to a particular need that some homeowners have or to welcome new residents to our great neighborhood or celebrate long-term members of our Country Club, we move forward each day. Each of us needs to be aware that moving forward means taking into account what each of us can do to ensure that this community keeps growing. I am confident that each of the DPOA board members are aware of this important priority. We give our

I encourage each of you to think about what moving forward means to you. We welcome our new neighbors, celebrate our long-term Club members, help one another, maintain our great facilities, appreciate the staff members of our Diamante Members Club, and always promote the Diamante neighborhood to others. I consider the members and residents of Diamante as my family, and I, as well as every supporter, we will always do what we can to keep our family moving forward.

We Are All in This Together!

Hello to all of our fellow Diamante friends and property owners who are members of the Diamante Property Owners Association (DPOA). First and foremost, thank you for being a member of this vital association. As the saying goes, "We are all in this together!" Your membership provides the funds that we need to take care of our beautiful property. You may have noticed that the water sprinklers have come on down the Diamante Boulevard entrance. They are turned on at the beginning of every summer to keep the grass at the entrance looking nice and green. They also water the flower beds and the crepe myrtle trees.

I have had several inquiries about the mowing of the ditches and road edges of our neighborhoods... "Who does it and when?" they ask. The Village Property Owners Association (POA) contracts a lawn-mowing company to mow the road edges and ditches twice each year throughout the entire Village, which, of course, includes us. They mow them at the beginning of the Summer and at the beginning of the Fall. If the Diamante properties need mowing between those intervals, then the DPOA contracts with workers for this additional mowing. When the tractors cannot get into the cul-de-sac areas and ditches, then each property owner is responsible. You may provide that service yourself or hire a mowing crew.

Finally, several sunken places in the road on Loyola Drive, Loyola Circle, Loyola Way, and Loyola Lane need to be repaired. We have written a letter to the POA to request that these need to be repaired. ♦ —Neil Phelan, JR.

"That's all for now.
Stay safe, and stay cool."

After a sabbatical of 10 years, Joe Stafford is once again starring as Garth Warbler in Diamante’s upcoming movie, “Garth Warbler—10 Years Later.” Currently, this original movie is in production and scheduled for November 10, 11, and 18.

The Diamond Room will be transformed into a concession stand and bar. Attendees will be able to buy movie-theatre concessions and drinks before watching the movie at 7:30 in the main dining room. The Club will notify members when reservations will be taken. Since this production may be the last Diamante feature movie produced by its Executive Producer, Faith Heinrichs, she is trying hard to make it her best. Save your preferred date on your personal calendar NOW!

Consistent with the first Garth Warbler movie, this sequel will feature Diamante members as country music stars. Before you attend the movie, though, see if you can recognize some of these interesting and “trashy-looking” women on the following page...good luck! ♦

Ron & Faith

The Heinrichs

Have you wondered about the backgrounds of Ron and Faith Heinrichs, the couple behind the movies that are enjoyed each year by our club members? No, they have no background in movie making. It is a post-retirement hobby that Faith developed to provide an activity besides playing golf everyday. As a result, Ron later got dragged into her "hobby" as a spousal support endeavor.

Both Ron and Faith are Professors Emeriti at the University of Central Missouri in Warrensburg, Missouri. Recommended by friends who also taught at Central, Ron and Faith visited Hot Springs Village, fell in love with it, purchased a home at 8 Loyola Lane, and moved into the Diamante neighborhood in 2002.

Their first movie was a collaboration with Joe Stafford, "Murder at Diamante on St Patrick's Day." This event was so well received that they decided to make additional movies, leading into the bottomless pit of investments in various Macintosh computers, camcorders, and all of the other audio and lighting equipment that are necessary to make movies. Since their first movie, they have been making both short- and full-featured movies every year.

"Why make movies?" you may ask. Faith replies, "The club needs fun entertainment that involves its members. I know of no other country club in the United States that does what we do." In addition, making movies provides the opportunity for the couple to meet the members, while giving Faith the outlet for her creative side.

Help us celebrate our neighbor!

Celebrating Our

DIAMANTE—Award-Winning Golf Course and Country Club

As the only member-owned private country club in Hot Springs Village, Diamante Country Club is the top choice for all the amenities one would expect from a premier private country club. "Diamante's award-winning golf course is one of nine golf courses in the Village, and its unique course design truly offers something for every golfer," said Shane Newton, the club's PGA General Manager. "The golf course provides an excellent playing experience with our zoysia fairways, bentgrass greens, and pristine white sand in the 'Better Billy Bunkers'." Diamante appeals to golfers of all abilities with seven sets of tees from 4,562 yards to one of the longest courses in Arkansas at 7,457 yards." He added, "Diamante continues to earn its status of one of the top-rated courses in the state."

Additional golf amenities include golf practice facilities that feature a driving range with elevated tees overlooking the Ouachita Mountains, a large chipping green with practice bunkers, and an expansive putting green. Other amenities available to club members and their guests include newly renovated clay tennis courts, a newly renovated outdoor swimming pool, a well-equipped golf shop, and a beautifully appointed clubhouse. "We offer several dining options with our bar and grill, main dining room, and private dining rooms. We recently added outdoor dining options on our new patio behind the clubhouse that has become a member favorite," Shane said.

Terri Socha, the club's Membership Director, has been with the club for over 12 years. She explains the club's name, "Diamante is Spanish for 'diamond,' which is certainly an appropriate name for this country club as being the crown jewel of the Ouachita Mountains with all it has to offer." Diamante offers several membership opportunities ranging from the use of the clubhouse, tennis courts, and swimming pool to full golf memberships, including corporate and even nonresident options. The club's offerings are only for the members of the club and their guests. However, Diamante also offers event planning and welcomes select outside events to those looking for the perfect venue for special events, such as weddings, golf outings, and business meetings, just to name a few.

In closing, Shane said, "Hot Springs Village is the largest gated community in the United States with 26,000 acres. The opportunity to be a member of a private club inside a gated community is a whole different level of exclusivity. This truly is a premier club and, without a doubt, it's the best in our area." ♦

UA LITTLE ROCK

They Are Coming to Diamante 2022 UALR Women's Golf Classic October 16-18

On October 16th, we will welcome the 15th annual UALR Women's Golf Classic to Diamante and recognize the talented young women athletes who are the future of women's golf. We have the roster filled for 2022, and this roster includes eight new teams. The 2022 tournament schedule has been modified and is shortened by a day. Teams will have a practice round on Sunday, October 16th, play 36 holes on Monday, October 17th, and play the final round on Tuesday morning, October 18th.

During the next 3 months, we will introduce you to the teams for 2022, and we are soliciting housing for the teams. This tournament is one of the few women's tournaments that provide host housing, and we are known for our hospitality and warm reception. Host housing is not restricted to Diamante residents...we have hosts all over the East end of the Village and welcome anyone who would like to participate. In September, we will provide more information about the tournament and how you can participate.

New 2022 Teams

The eight new teams are the following:

- ♦ Arkansas Tech University (Russellville, Arkansas)
- ♦ Belmont University (Nashville, Tennessee)
- ♦ Idaho State University (Pocatello, Idaho)
- ♦ Tarleton State University (Stephenville, Texas)
- ♦ Texas A&M University—Commerce (Commerce, Texas)
- ♦ Troy University (Troy, Alabama)
- ♦ University of Southern Illinois (Carbondale, Illinois)
- ♦ University of Southern Indiana (Evansville, Indiana)

If you are an alumnus of any of these schools, then get ready to show your team spirit during the tournament! Let us know if you can assist by volunteering to offer host housing, which consists of sleeping accommodations and providing a light breakfast. Hosting is a wonderful experience with very little "hosting" required. Most of the athletes' time is spent on the golf course, recovering from play, and completing studies...they are still students with courses to manage! We look forward to hearing from you. ♦

MEET YOUR NEIGHBORS

MICHAEL AND BRENDA WALLS

Michael and Brenda recently moved into their new home at 7 Granada Trace, which is located on Diamante's hole #2 about halfway down the fairway. They rented in the Village while their custom-built home was under construction. Although it is still a work-in-progress on a few fronts, Michael and Brenda are delighted to be in their new home and look forward to participating in the entire Diamante experience.

Michael and Brenda met while Brenda attended Marshall University in Huntington, West Virginia, and Michael was working at the Columbia Gas System. Brenda worked part-time at Columbia Gas, and Michael was a Production Engineer in the company's oil and gas division. They were married in Huntington, West Virginia, and just celebrated 42 years of marriage.

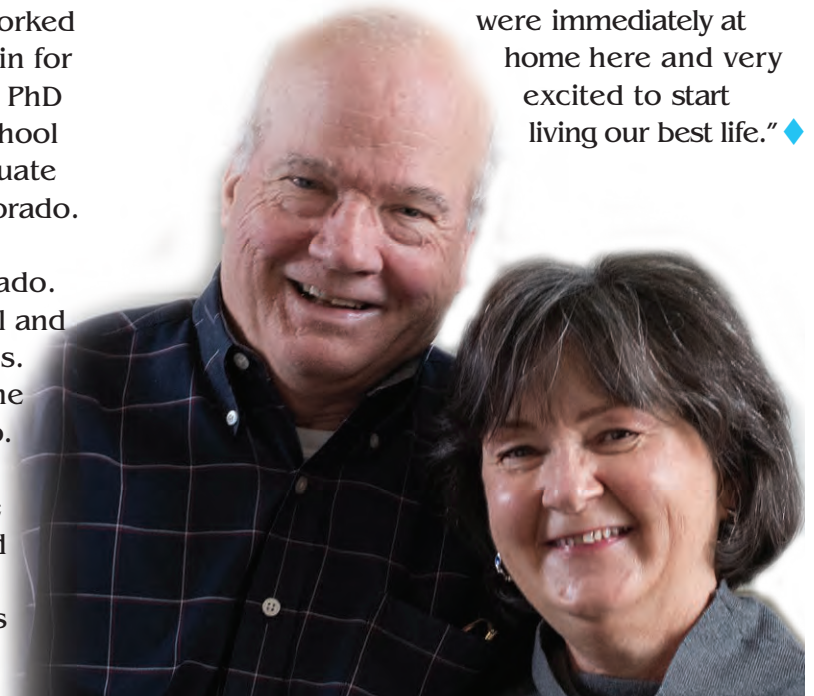

Michael and Brenda have also lived and worked in New York and Texas. They resided in Austin for 5 years where Michael pursued his MBA and PhD degrees at the University of Texas–Austin School of Business. When Michael finished his graduate degrees, the family made their home in Colorado. Michael was a Professor of Business at the Colorado School of Mines in Golden, Colorado. As a consultant in risk management to the oil and gas industry, he traveled to over 30 countries. Brenda consulted and worked part-time in the field of speech pathology in Arvada, Colorado.

For almost 30 years, Colorado was their home where the great outdoors was a huge part of their lives. They hiked, flyfished, and added skiing and horseback riding to their outdoor hobbies. Although Michael continues to do a little consulting for the oil and gas industry...“but not so much that it interferes with our fun,” both Michael and Brenda have retired. Their daughter, Caitlin, with her husband, Austin, and their daughter, Grey, live in Homer, Alaska. She is Executive Director of Institutional Advancement for a native American college. Their son, Mike, lives in Houston where he is a Senior Trading Analyst for Marathon Oil.

Both Brenda and Michael enjoy traveling and just being outdoors. Michael is the golfer in the family, although a bit of a late starter, and he also enjoys hiking and kayaking along with Brenda, who enjoys swimming, pickleball, and is an avid reader who is always in search of an eclectic book club.

Michael and Brenda visited Hot Springs Village after a golf buddy of Michael's recommended it. Although somewhat surprised that Arkansas might be on a list of their life's next adventures, “...we were immediately at home here and very excited to start living our best life.” ♦

“Our transition from Colorado to Diamante was made much easier by all of the friendly people who we have met in the Village. We are excited to get to know all of our Diamante neighbors and to build some lifelong relationships.”

Kat Buenger

Administrative Assistant

Kat was born and raised in British Columbia, Canada. She moved to Colorado in 1999 where she met her husband. They have a daughter and two beautiful granddaughters. Kat's work experience began in the Canadian Northwest Territories working at a hospital Admitting and Emergency desk. When she moved back to British Columbia, she worked at a police department and then a high school. After her move to Colorado, she worked with a missionary organization and traveled to many countries—Israel, Cyprus, Jordan, Colombia, Thailand, and Australia. While in these countries, Kat cuddled babies in orphanages, shoveled rock, fed the needy, and worked with kids in the slums. Once married, she worked in Property Management with her husband and then worked at an all-inclusive day care center for seniors.

After she and her husband visited friends who lived in Hot Springs Village, they fell in love with everything they saw. Four days later, they purchased a home on Lake Pineda and happily moved here in December. In April, Kat was thankful to be hired as the Administrative Assistant at Diamante. You will hear her cheery voice on the telephone, and she will greet you with a smile. She loves helping each member anyway she can.

How to Reduce Your Homeownership Costs

Homeownership comes with a variety of costs, but do not worry—these expenses do not have to break the bank. If you want to cut the costs of homeownership, consider trying the following five approaches. You may even make your home safer and less prone to damage.

- 1. Homeowners Insurance: To reduce your insurance premiums, bundle your home and automobile policies, upgrade older systems in your home, and/or add safety devices such as burglar alarms, as well as smoke- and carbon-monoxide detectors.
- 2. Utilities: To reduce your monthly utility bills, invest in Energy Star-certified appliances, and consider getting a smart thermostat. In addition, seasonal weatherproofing, updating your windows, adding more insulation, and installing LED lighting may also reduce your utility bills.

- 3. Taxes: If your property taxes increase, you can challenge the increase with your local appraisal board. You may also be able to file for a homestead exemption (<https://otbd.it/jy9ujdfi>) for your primary residence, which places a cap on how much your taxes can increase.

- 4. Repairs: Because contractor costs and the prices of building materials are still rising, shop around for the parts that you need and consider completing any project for which you are qualified on your own, rather than outsourcing. You can also shop secondhand for supplies at a lower cost.

- 5. Mortgage: Refinancing for a lower rate could lower your monthly mortgage payment. Even if you refinance to a shorter term, which typically raises your monthly payment, your long-term interest costs will be reduced. ♦

HISTORICAL FACTS

BEYOND THE MYTH OF THE AMERICAN FLAG

Betsy Ross is famous for being known for sewing the first American flag. However, is the account of her contribution to the American Revolution simply a legend?

William J. Canby, the grandson of Betsy Ross, often recounted a visit that Ross received from three members of the Continental Congress in late May or early June of 1776: (1) General George Washington, a financier of the Revolutionary War; (2) Robert Morris, an owner of vast amounts of land and perhaps the wealthiest citizen in the colonies; and (3) Colonel George Ross, a signer of the Declaration of Independence and the uncle of her deceased husband. Allegedly, during this meeting, Betsy Ross was presented with a sketch of a flag that featured 13 red and white stripes and 13 six-pointed stars, and she was asked whether she would create a flag to match the proposed design. Ross agreed, but she suggested a couple of changes, including arranging the stars in a circle and reducing the points on each star from six to five. The following year, on June 14, 1777, Congress officially adopted the "Stars and Stripes" as the national flag.

Canby's claim was published in Harper's New Monthly Magazine in 1873 and soon became part of the United States history curriculum taught to millions of elementary-aged school children every year. Although it is believed that Colonel George

Ross recommended Betsy Ross for the job, no official documentation confirms that she was responsible for creating the very first flag. However, a receipt for the sum of more than 14 pounds was paid to her on May 29, 1777, by the Pennsylvania State Navy Board for making "ships colors."

Some historians attribute the design of the first flag to Francis Hopkinson, a New Jersey delegate to the Continental Congress. As a signer of the Declaration of Independence, Hopkinson also played a role in designing seals for various departments within the United States government. In 1780, when Hopkinson sought payment from the Board of Admiralty for his design of the "flag of the United States of America," his petition for payment was denied.

When the American Revolution broke out in 1775, the colonists had not yet united under a single flag. According to Marc Leepson, the author of Flag: An American Biography, the soldiers primarily fought under unit or regimental flags. Mike Buss, a flag expert with The American Legion veterans' organization, is quoted as saying, "There wasn't anything that was stars and stripes, red, white, and blue."

In June of 1775, the Second Continental Congress met in Philadelphia and created the Continental Army. Some historians claim that George Washington, the army's Commander-in-Chief, ordered that a flag called the “Continental Colors” be raised the following New Year’s Day during a siege of British-occupied Boston. However, David Martucci, the past President of the North American Vexillological Association, the world’s largest group dedicated to the study of flags, believes Washington more likely raised the British Union Jack.

According to Martucci, the “Continental Colors” flag, with its 13 alternating red and white stripes and a Union Jack in the upper left-hand corner, was only used by the Navy and perhaps at military bases. Leepson reported that Washington soon realized that flying a flag that resembled the flag of the enemy was probably not a good idea.

On June 14, 1777, the Second Continental Congress passed a resolution stating that “the flag of the United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white” and that “the union is 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation.”

To this day, no one knows who designed the flag or why that particular color combination and pattern were chosen. Although legend holds that Betsy Ross made the first American flag in 1776 after being asked to do so by Washington, the primary sources backing up that assertion are scarce. According to Leepson, it was almost unheard of for individuals to fly the American flag until the Civil War broke out in 1861, at which time the “Stars and Stripes” suddenly became a popular symbol in the North. “This is the beginning of what some people call the cult of the flag, the almost religious feeling that many Americans have for the red, white, and blue,” Leepson reported. In 1870, the Betsy Ross legend took off when her grandson held a press conference touting her possible role in sewing the first flag, and the earliest flag protection laws appeared not long thereafter. Meanwhile, in 1885, Bernard Cigrand, a Wisconsin teacher, originated the idea for a National Flag Day.

In 1912, President William Howard Taft signed an executive order that, for the first time, clarified the appearance of the flag. Up until then, some flags were oddly proportioned or even had six- or eight-pointed stars. Four years later, President Woodrow Wilson issued a proclamation that officially established a nationwide observance of a National Flag Day on June 14, 1916, the anniversary of the Flag Resolution of 1777. In 1949, President Harry Truman signed legislation designating June 14th of each year as National Flag Day.

Although National Flag Day is not a federal holiday, the United States government encourages its citizens to display “Old Glory” outside of their homes and businesses. Today, unfortunately, this tradition is not widely observed. ♦ —Heidi Hilbert

Our Neighborhood Crime Watch Program Block Captains—Responsibilities and Recommended Activities

For those of you who are already Block Captains or those of you who may decide to volunteer to be a Block Captain, the following article includes many of the responsibilities of a Block Captain. Importantly, these responsibilities are not meant to be all-inclusive, because many Block Captains are creative in their approach.

Removing the opportunity for crime will reduce the amount of crime. One half of all home burglaries occur during the day when alert neighbors could spot thieves and call the police.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF BLOCK CAPTAINS

1. Periodically monitor the membership of your assigned block(s). Contact new neighbors to get them involved and/or to obtain their support and participation.
2. Update your list of residents as needed. Contact the Diamante Property Owners Association (DPOA), specifically Heidi Hilbert or Donna Fleharty (see page 14 of this newsletter for e-mail addresses), if you have changes to your roster of block residents.

REMEMBER

All citizens, both Block Captains and residents, who see a crime in progress or notice suspicious activity should observe the crime or activity from a place of safety and call 911 (emergency).

3. Develop a neighborhood communication system designed to distribute vital information to neighbors about suspected criminal activity and other concerns that develop on your block(s). The method of communication can be a periodic newsletter, a telephone call-tree system, and/or a one-page notice that can be quickly distributed.
4. Arrange for your group to meet socially at least twice each year to exchange information and to renew relationships, as well as to meet and get acquainted with new neighbors.

People who regularly communicate will care more about one another and be more willing to keep an eye out for suspicious behaviors.

5. Encourage neighbors to advise you concerning criminal activity. Although the responsibility for contacting the police lies with the victim, the Block Captain is encouraged to keep a record of break ins, vandalism, graffiti, and/or any activity that becomes a concern for you and your neighbors.

Block Captains and Responsibilities and Recommended Activities—cont'd

Block Captains do not have any law enforcement authority. They are simply those who facilitate the unity of the group, distribute information, and coordinate activities.

The job of a Block Captain is important and appreciated by the DPOA. However, a Block Captain should never confront an offender unless he or she is in immediate danger. We do not want anyone to get hurt or injured trying to apprehend an offender or interfere with an incident. Block Captains should only report the activity to the police.

In closing, if you stop serving as a Block Captain and/or if someone else takes over your responsibilities, contact Heidi Hilbert or Donna Fleharty. ♦

Did you know that 100-degree temperatures don't last forever at Diamante? It may not seem that way after experiencing the past 2 weeks! To cool things off a bit, let's take a look back at the February 2009 Diamante Club News. Happy reading!

- 1 The Diamante Tennis Association celebrated Christmas with a party and a sing-along performance. Those attending included Jim and Mickey Bearden, Harold and Kathy Richie, Tom and Cindy Leffler, Bill and Carolyn Leffler, Toni Wallace, Jeanie Brandeberry, Jim and Beverlee Redding, Jim and Leslie Pfeiffer, Jim and Sue Baltz, Larry Averett, and Joe and Mary Jane Stafford. Martha Smither accompanied the singing on the piano.
- 2 The winners of the January 2009 Couples Bridge Night were Pete and Margaret Johnson, first place; Bill and Kay Butterworth, second place; and Ron and Barb Kohler, third place.
- 3 The Diamante Women's Golf Association's 18-Hole League celebrated their 2008 Christmas luncheon by giving. They collected 50 gifts for the Mountain Pine School District's preschoolers and $537.00 to purchase toys for the North Garland County Head Start program.
- 4 The following DWGA-18 members received recognition: Faith Heinrichs, the Highest Participation Award; Nancy Webb, the Claudia Keune Positive Attitude Award; and President Sissy Toney, the Most Improved Player Award for reducing her handicap by 40%. In 2008, Sissy won the Diamante Ladies Club Championship, the DWGA-18 Championship, and the DWGA-18 Member/Guest Championship with her partner.
- 5 The Diamante Advisory Board welcomed six new members: BJ Conner, Charlie Johnson, Roy Lang, Gerry Vaden, Rich Van Leeuwen, and Dan Webb.
- 6 The Diamante Guys & Dolls Golf Association announced their 2009 schedule: (a) seventeen Friday 9-hole scrambles, (b) four Sunday 18-hole events, (c) the Spring Fling, (d) the Grand Finale; and (e) the Fall Outing trip. Incoming Guys & Dolls officers were President and Vice President, Joe and Mary Jane Stafford; Secretary and Treasurer, Roy and Lorrie Lang; and Social Chairs, Dan and Nancy Webb.
- 7 Tom Dillenger scored a hole-in-one on hole #16 at 157 yards, using a 7 iron, while Joe Stafford eagled hole #10. ♦ —Jeanne Godbold
